COST PER HIRE

- ✦ Remember, if you hire, you're responsible for all burden associated with a direct employee.
 - Unemployment cost, workers comp, advertising, interviewing expenses, referral bonuses, skills assessment and pre-employment screening.
 - If you decide to terminate that employee, you have lost all of your cost associated with hiring and training.
 - You also face any conflict that may arise, as well as the separation costs of releasing that employee.
- ✦ By using us and "test-driving" the worker in a "temp-to-hire" arrangement, you get a first-hand look at how a prospective employee performs.
 - Your company does not assume the costs or the responsibilities of providing and coordinating a benefits program. We cover all costs and our employees understand his/her role as a temp.
 - You can end that assignment at anytime with no burden to you.
